Cancer Council Victoria is a not-for-profit organisation which aims to reduce the impact of cancer in Victoria. It is an independent body that advises various groups, including government, on cancer-related issues.

Challenge

Cancer Council is renowned for its high-profile fundraising campaigns such as Daffodil Day and Australia's Biggest Morning Tea. When the Events and Campaigns Team needed additional skills to lead and deliver these campaigns, in addition to another short-term membership project led by the Community Engagement Team, Cancer Council Victoria approached NGO Recruitment for the temporary skills required.

Solution

NGO Recruitment sourced high-quality, technically skilled and culturally-aligned temporary candidates with immediate availability. Cancer Council Victoria benefited from a dedicated recruitment consultant personally committed to the organisation, who is both responsive and passionate about relationship building and outcomes.
